PENCE CALLS U.N. RESOLUTION ‘VICTORY FOR PRESIDENT BUSH AND FITTING TRIBUTE’ TO

Washington, Jun 9, 2004 - Washington, D.C. – Congressman Mike Pence today called yesterday’s unanimous vote by the U.N. Security Council on the June 30 transfer of power a victory for President Bush and for the freedom of Iraq. His comments follow:

“After months of sacrifice by U.S. and Coalition Forces, yesterday the United Nations Security Council agreed unanimously to a resolution outlining a free and democratic future for the people of Iraq.

“By a 15-0 vote, which included France, Germany, and Russia, the United Nations agreed to declare a formal end to occupation on June 30 and set into motion the processes for an interim and permanent democracy in Iraq.

“Make no mistake about it, international approval of the progress of freedom in Iraq is a victory for this president, and, I would add, a fitting tribute to the president in whose memory we will gather later today.”
